Expressions of African Culture

Dec. 31-April 24, 2010

The Arts & Science Center for Southeast Arkansas

Pine Bluff

What you can expect to see: The exhibit presents a wealth of unique items from West Africa. Pieces range from carved wooden ceremonial masks covered in antelope skin to wrought iron money and spans in time from the 5th Century B.C. to the 20th Century A.D. Most pieces never before seen in public.

Collection: Dana and Laurie Mitchell of Memphis, private collection.

Sponsors: Simmons First National Bank, Entergy, Pine Bluff Sand and Gravel, The Sarah Creasy Endowment Fund for The Arts & Science Center, The Entergy Endowment Fund for The Arts & Science Center, Arkansas Humanities Council, Arkansas Arts Council and the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff.

Adella, Adella the Storyteller: Feb. 1, 2 and 6

Who: Adella Gautier – or Adella, Adella the Storyteller – will bring African animals to life, make history real, turn ancestors into wise friends, and open the imaginations and hearts of all her listeners.

Free School Performances: All 5th grade students in Jefferson County are invited to tour the exhibit, enjoy Adella's performance and take part in a mask-making activity provided by Historic Arkansas Museum on Feb. 1-2.

Free Public Performance: 1-4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 6, all are invited to the Center to hear Adella, tour the exhibits and make a mask to take home. Free Adella performance at 1:30 p.m.

Open Houses and Gallery Talks: Feb. 2, 12 and 21

African-American Advisory Committee Open House: 5-7 p.m.

Tuesday, Feb. 2: The Center's African-American Advisory Committee will host an Open House with Adella.

Gallery Talk 5-7 p.m. Friday, Feb. 12: "The Meaning Behind the Art," Dr. Joanna Edwards, professor emeritus in humanities and art history from UAPB.

Open House 3-5 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 21: Dana and Laurie Mitchell.

African Drum Ballet: 1-4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 27

Free Public Performance: 1-4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 27, all are invited to the Center to enjoy and interact with Zinse Agginie and tour the Center's exhibits. Free African Drum Ballet performance at 1:30 p.m.

School Workshops: Zinse will work with students from Oak Park Elementary and teach African Drum Ballet during spring 2010.

Hands-On Kids' Science Exhibits!

GPS: Adventures Arkansas: April 2010-August 2010

Want to get in on the latest outdoor craze? Learn about geocaching, an outdoor activity where participants use GPS systems to hide and find caches. Go on a mini-geocaching adventure and get started finding all 52 geocaches at parks throughout Arkansas!

Also GPS: Mapping Jefferson County! The EAST Lab kids at White Hall High School are helping us hide secret caches at museums and centers and parks in Jefferson County. Find them in May and enter to win a prize!

Presented by Arkansas Discovery Network

NANOTECHNOLOGY What's the big deal?

Nanotechnology: April 2010-June 2010

Explore the world of the really, really small and the world of technology in this hands-on exhibit. Experts in this growing scientific field even talk about using nanotechnology to build staircases to the Moon!

Illusion Confusion: Current-March 2010

Final months to experience this kids' hands-on science exhibit. Startle your senses, delight your eyes and go crazy with your friends.

Teachers!!! Bring your classes in Spring 2010 for multiple exhibits that will stimulate your classrooms. Exhibits on African Art, Illusion, GPS and Nanotech run concurrently!

Please Call as Actual Openings of Shows May Vary

Educators Needed!

We are always in need of teachers to lead our Saturday Scholars programs and our summer theater, art and science camps. These positions are paid.

We also need your support to create Lesson Plans to go with our exhibits. Be an educator friend of the Arts & Science Center! We appreciate you!
